Stories of Native American Descendants

2006

Please join this project!!! @Project
Row
Houses

I am collecting stories about Native American ancestry among various ethnic groups.

You may start your story with "my great, great, great grandmother was from..." or however you please.

This project involves photographing each participant, making plaster molds of your feet, and recording your stories and takes about one and half hour.

So, if you would like to explore your ancestors through these collective stories, please come to join this project.

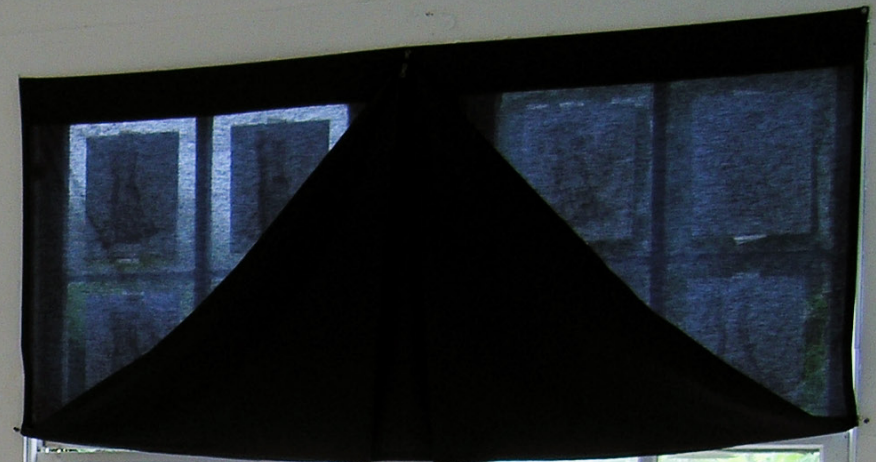

This exhibition will take place in this house at the end of August.

Hope to see you and enjoy this project with you!

Location : 2509 Holman, Houston @ Project Row Houses

Hours Thursday 4 - 7 pm
Friday & Saturday 1 - 5 pm
And by Appointment
